

faith . discipline . patience

Dear aging parents,

I love you dearly and hope you'll be with us for years to come.

At some point in those years you may find help is needed. I'm here to help but I don't know what type of help you'd like.

If you need care would you like for me to provide this care? I'm happy to do so.

Or would you rather I simply coordinate the care?

Or maybe you don't want me to be part of this at all?

Another thing, if necessary, do you know where you'd want the care provided? Aging in your home as long as possible?

Or is there a particular facility you prefer?

I have the money to help you but maybe you don't need my help? You might have a long-term care insurance policy. I don't know.

Do you have a game plan for all of this? If not, do you need help putting one in place?

Maybe talk between yourselves first and let me know your thoughts.

I don't want to be overbearing. I just dread the call one day informing me you're in the hospital and have people in white look to me for answers.

I mean, I'll answer their questions. But they'll be my answers as I think you'd want me to give them.

Or maybe you've already named someone to whom the doctors can direct their questions.

Regardless, I don't want my worries to get between us. I just want things taken care of according to your wishes.

And for us to have many more wonderful moments together.

With endless love,

Your child.

Jorgen Vik, CFP®

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™

Partner

SKV Group, LLC

Wells Fargo Advisors Financial Network did not assist in the preparation of this report, and its accuracy and completeness are not guaranteed. The opinions expressed in this report are those of the author(s) and are not necessarily those of Wells Fargo Advisor Financial Network or its affiliates. The material has been prepared or is distributed solely for information purposes and is not a solicitation or an offer to buy any security or instrument or to participate in any trading strategy.

This information is hypothetical and is provided for informational purposes only. It is not intended to represent any specific return, yield, or investment, nor is it indicative of future results.

1405 Rolkin Ct., Suite 202
Charlottesville, VA 22911
toll free 844.391.3610
tel 434.328.8040
fax 434.234.3789
www.skvgrp.net